BROOKLYNS

Another Called Game Defeats the Giants.

SOME VERY BIG KICKING.

Local Lawyers Talk About the League Reserve Rule.

TO-DAY'S LOCAL BENEFIT GAME.

Winners at the Lexington and London Running Races.

GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

The Brooklyns again defeated the New Yorks in the world's championship series. The game was once more called when New York looked formidable. Local lawyers express opinions about the League reserverule as it applies to the contracts of the recent season. The League's new contract contains nothing relative to the classification rule. There were good running races at Lexington and London.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE !

BROOKLYN, October 23 .- Brooklyns three games, New Yorks one game. This is the way the series stands between the clubs, the former having won the game to-day, 10 runs to 7. As has been the case in three games out of the four thus far played, darkness put an end to the proceedings. That these games are anything but a hippodrome was well showed by the bitter feeling engendered by a kick at a decision of Umpire Gaffney on the run that enabled New York to tie the game in the sixth inning when that club made the great rally of the game, which would have enabled the Giants to surely draw the game had not Dan Richardson, through over anxiety, muffed an easy fly ball-In this inning 21 minutes were wasted in use less talk and the spectators were thoroughly CAUSE OF THE KICK.

The whole cause was the decision Gaffney made, he ordering Ward to go back to third base on a ball that hit O'Rourke. When it was shown that even had the ball not hit that player, Ward could not have been put out he changed his decision. Then Brooklyn kicked and succeeded in talking the game into darkness. President John B. Day was greatly disgusted and said that he would have an understanding with the umpires and find out whether this sort of thing is going to last throughout the series. If Brooklyn is to be allowed to delay matters as has been the case in the series thus far, the game of to-morrow will end the world's championship games of 1889. An amicable settlement will undoubtedly be

NO REASON TO OBJECT.

There seemed to be no good reason why the men should have been allowed to object as long as this was the case. Lynch said it was no use to fine the men, as it really amounted to noth ing. It was a very cold day. There was a high wind during the afternoon and the thermometer stood below 40°. It was surprising, indeed, that there should be over 3,000 people on the grounds, as was the case. They stamped and shouted to keep themselves warm, and they had plenty of chance to do the latter. If the weather had been warm the cranks would have gone fairly wild over the game and especially the kicking. Buck Ewing felt very core over the way his club was handled. The New Yorks happened to get the worst of the umpiring all through the game. They feel pretty sore, and

A BAD MAN TO HANDLE.

Crane pitched, and a bad man he is to handle on a cold day. Errors let in most of the Brooklyns' runs and the New Yorks' fielding Terry was very effective, and it was not until the sixth inning that he was pounded almost at will. Smith put up the finest game on either side to-day, making some marvelous stops, recoveries and throws. His clever work prevented scoring in more than one instance. He had five out of the six fielding assists of the Brooklyns, Collins having but one chance at second base. Whitney and Gore did the best batting for New Yorks, Collins for Brooklyns. The game began at 2:52, New Yorks at the bat, and Lynch umpiring benind the bat, Gaffney on the bases. Score: Terry was very effective, and it was not until

A PLAIN STATEMENT.

Fred Pfeffer Throws a Little Light on the Brotherhood Mystery. CHICAGO, October 23.-The Brotherhood of Baseball Players has issued a call for a convention, which will meet in New York soon after the 1st of next month. Fred Pfeffer, who is reported to be the head of the Brotherhood movement in Chicago, admitted this to a re-

"Each chapter will send one man," he said, "and then all our grievances will be talked over. Of course I cannot say what will be brought up before the meeting but all grievances we may have will be thoroughly discussed. Yes, the classification of players and the salary question will be an important consideration. I think we can settle everything in a day; anyhow we will not be in session over two day."

ill your grievances be presented before the "Will your grievances be presented before the League meeting, which occurs November 13?"
"We agreed that it would be best to hold a meeting before the meeting of the League directors, because we might decide to present our claims before them. But it is too early yet to anticipate what we will do. We have really not yet decided upon anything definite, and until the meeting occurs all talk shout what action we will take is merely surmise that is beyond what I have told you."

Do you think that the Brotherhood and League will get together and settle all possible dispute?"

disputers "They may and may not. We are preparing for a battle, and have been looking around for grounds in the different cities, and we may decide to go into the baseball business ourselves. If we think we can make more money by acting independent of the League, why we are going to do it, but we are not going to make any kicks against the League doing just what it wants to as regards hiring players, management, etc."

wants to as regards hiring players, management, etc."

Mr. Spalding is about disgusted with the mere mention of the word Brotherhood. "If the newspapers would drop all this talk about a big combination of players and what they are going to do," he said, "I think the Brotherhood would go quietly to work. I don't know anything more about the Brotherhood that I see in the papers, and I don't believe the players who have joined it have any more knowledge of it than I have. Isn't that so, Dwier?" This was addressed to the young nitcher of the cith. "I guess you are right, Mr. Spalding," replied Dayer, "I don't know the scheme, but I belong to it. That's about all I can say,"

If the weather is favorable there will be lots of fun at Recreation Park to-day. The Pitts-burgs, at least eight of them and an outsider.

will play a picked nine. Of course, as is generally known, the game is for the benefit of ex-Manager Phillips. A large number of tickets have been sold and a big crowd of people is expected. Either Galvin or Staley will pitch for the Pittsburgs, and Blair or Toole will be in the box for the picked nine. The game will commence at 3 o'clock.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Prominent Lawyers State the Reserve Rul Will Hold the Players.

The threat of the League magnates to enforce the reserve provision of last season's contract against the players continues to be the theme of general discussion among baseball enthusi-asts. Following is section 18 of the contract over which there is so much controversy:
"It is further understood and agreed that the said party of the first part shall have the right said party of the first part shall have the right to reserve the said party of the second part for the season next ensuing the term mentioned in paragraph 2, herein provided, and said right and privilege is hereby accorded the said party of the first part upon the following conditions, which are to be taken and construed as conditions precedent to the exercise of such extraordinary right or privilege."

The conditions referred to are to the effect that the players so reserved for the "next ensuing season" are not to be paid a salary less than received during the season just expired, as mentioned in paragraph 2. The latter paragraph simply means the season in which a player signs.

The opinions of Attorneys R. A. Johnston and Major Montooth were asked regarding the question, yesterday. The Major said: "Why the contract is plain enough for anybody to understand. It simply means that all players who signed it this year must remain with their particular clubs next year. There is no getting over that point of course, providing the contract has not been violated. The 'next ensuing season' in the contract at present means next season and undoubtedly every player who signed the contract by so doing gave the party of the first part first claim to his services for of the first part first claim to his services for next year. That is the plain and correct view of a very simple question. The contract law of Pennsylvania is very definite. If I contract to supply you with coal for this winter and the winter next ensuing most assuredly that means that I must supply you this winter and that of 1890. The baseball contract means what it

Mr. Johnston, who is a candidate for the District Attorneyship, said: "Legally, section 18 means just what it says, and it says that players who signed the contract for 1898 to play with a certain club must remain with that club with a certain club must remain with that club during 1890 if the party of the first part wish to enforce their right. That is quite clear."

Several other lawyers after reading the contract expressed similar opinion. Manager Hanlou, of the local club, was told of these opinions last evening and he stated in reply that the entire matter hinges on the word "reserve." He said that a prominent lawyer in New York is of opinion that the word may mean many things as it is stated in the contract. It is a fact, however, that the players are generally becoming convinced about the famous eightnerth section after hearing legal. are generally becoming convinced about the famous eighteenth section after hearing legal opinions regarding it.

WARD'S REPLY.

He Tries to Show Where Ex-President Mills is Wrong.

The opinion of Mr. A. G. Mills, which appeared in yesterday's DISPATCH regarding the serve rule, has caused John M. Ward to make a brief reply. Mr. Ward says:

"What I do object to, however, is to see men like A. G. Mills giving their opinions on the outcome of any action the Brotherhood takes in the future. The Brotherhood have no secrets whatever. Mr. Mills and others may secrets whatever. Mr. Mills and others may enjoy laying out our programme and predicting its future, but as yet he or anyone eise has no right to criticise the Brotherhood.

"Let us look at baseball without regard to Brotherhood and see if there could not be a success made of it by other men. Can anyone reasonably say that there isn't pienty of good, honest business men who could handle baseball affairs as well as the men now in the League? This talk that the men would not pull together and work just as faithfully as now is all nonsense. Men have more chances now to do wrong than they would with a change of management."

now to do wrong than they would with a change of management."

When questioned about the reserve rule Ward took a silp of paper from his pocket and read that part of the contract which he had copied off for the purpose of studying up.

"They say that the best legal talent claim the men must remain under a fear of being prevented from playing ball elsewhere. This is a big bluff. If they had any such right why haven't they prevented men playing outside the League before to-day, as there have been several instances where men have broken contracts and gone to California and other outside places. This whole question hinges on the meaning of that one little word, reserve. It is all one-sided and could not hold a player who wanted to go outside.

"I will admit it does hold a man in the League, but that ends it, and just as good legal authority as we have has decided that no such authority as we have has decided that no such word as 'reserve' is used in any contracts outside of baseball, and is too broad to hold good.

"Now, for instance, you signed a contract with your employes for a year, with the privilege of renewing it, would the word 'reserve' be used? It is purely a League scheme, and they forced men to let it go in the contracts, but it will not hold."

"Our Guests: The President, Officers, Managers and Players of the Brooklyn Baseball Club"—President Charles H. Byrne. "The National Game"—James D. Bell. "The Ladies, Brooklyn's Mascots"—William C. DeWitt. "Brooklyn, the Cradle of Baseball"—James W. Ridgeway. "Baseball in Ye Olden Time"—Harry Chadwick. "The Press—Honest and True in the Support of the National Game"—F. C. Richter.
There will be addresses by the prominent guests, who are to attest their appreciation of the team's work by their presence and their words. The above is only a partial list of the toasts, for Dr. McLean and his committee have been so onsy arranging for music, decorations, etc., that they have been unable to complete the regular programme for the bahquet. It will be a great night for Brooklyn lovers of baseball.

SPALDING MEANS IT.

Players.

CHICAGO, October 23 -President Spalding, of the Chicago ball club, to-day reiterated his statement that he would institute legal proceed-ings against the reserve members of the Chicago team who shall refuse to sign contracts for next year.

"Why do you intend to enjoin them?" Mr. Spalding was asked.
"Well, when we signed our contracts last year it was under the agreement that we had the it was under the agreement tony or the right to reserve them for this year. Now, we wish to enforce the terms of that contract, but as yet no one unt Captain Anson has signed. I have notified every one of the players that they must come to the front and sign for next year." "Will they do it?" "They have a secret organization and they "Iney have a secret organization and they won't say they will not sign, nor will they say they will. They simply look wise and say nothing. But, I will fix them," added Mr. Spalding. "My attorney assures me not one of them will be able to play ball in Chicago, if I have an injunction on them and you can bet your last dollar I will protect my rights."

M'GUNIGLE'S PLANS.

He May Go to California and Take Old Sport Galvin.

PERCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 BROOKLYN, October 23.—Manager McGuni-gle has had a chance to go to California with a gle has had a chance to go to California with a team of his own selection. Negotiations were opened with him as soon as the Association season closed, and he wired his terms. As yet he has had no reply, and the outcome is still in doubt. If he goes Pinkney, Burns, O'Brien and Foutz, of the Brooklyns, and Jim Galvin, of the Pittsburgs, will probably go with him, beside several more first-class players.

When the world's series terminates, Mac has arranged for a hunting trip to Maine. Pinkney, O'Brien, Burns and Captain Cudworth, of the Worcester team, will accompany him.

It was intended to hold a county league meeting this evening, but it will be postponed for a few days on account of the averages not being completed. Mr. Edwards expects to have them finished shortly. There is a desire in some quarters to extinguish any chance Hess may have for the prize of the best batting average, because he left the league before the season fluished. This would seem unfair.

When the meeting is held the East End Athletics will be presented with the Pratt pennant. It is a splendid flag.

A STATE LEAGUE PROPOSED. cranton and Wilkesbarre Much in Earne Regarding the Scheme,

PRECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WILKESBAREE, October 23.—There is every probability that Pennsylvania will have a strong State baseball league next year. The matter is already being strongly talked up in this city and Scranton. The Williamsport baseball enthusiasts are dead set for a State league, and Harrisburg will be one of the first teams to enter. Eight clubs will compose the league—Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Williamsport, Harrisburg, Lancaster, York, Easton and Allentown. Scranton and Wilkesbarre would prefer to enter a stronger league, but since this is almost impossible they will consent to join the smaller cities of the State and get good clubs in a State league. The Williamsport papers are afraid that Scranton and Wilkesbarre will take advantage of things and place high-priced teams in the field. The clubs as a whole will insist upon a salary limit. Fifteen hundred dollars is thought to be about fair. Williamsport people insist that $1,000 would be the right figure, and also that next year baseball managers can get good ball players for $75 a month—the same players to whom $100 a month was paid last year. this city and Scranton. The Williamspor mid last year.

Some of the Scrantonians, who have plenty of money behind their baseball enthusiasm, would like to put a $2,500 club in the International League, but it is not likely that the International League will have any room for Scranton without Wilkesbarre, and, for that matter, it will have no use for both. Wilkesbarre could not support a $2,200 team in the Atlantic Association last year, and that fact alone would bar her out.

SOMEWHAT CONSOLING.

The League's New Contracts Say Nothing About Classification.

PERCHAL TRLEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, October 23 .- This morning's batch of contracts with players for the season of 1890. Chicago, Boston and Pittsburg are the only clubs who have thus far notified President Young that they are in the market and able to secure talent for the coming year. None of the new contracts contain the names of players familiar in the League or American Associa-familiar in the League or American Association circles, but the signers are men who have yet to make reputation for themselves in the two leading associations.

Mr. Young says he is not acquainted with the merits of M. J. Kittridge, whom the Chicagos have signed. Neither does he know anything of the qualifications of Robert L. Lowe, who is under contract to play with the Bostons next season. His home is in Pennsylvania, and he is said to be a promising young player. The Pittsburgs have also gathered in three young players, S. M. Laroque, W. M. Kittridge and P. J. Daniels. As nothing is said in this connection about classification, the indications are the League is not going to make the classification League is not going to make the classification rule one of the issues in their probable con-troversy with the Brotherhood.

He is the first player to attach his name to a contract. Manager Barnie has also secured the services of Joe Werrick, formerly with the St. Louis club, but more recently with St. Paul. Werrick sent on his terms by mail and he was notified by telegraph of their acceptance. He will play second base in place of Reddy Mack, who will be released.

KENTUCKY'S BATTLE.

The Governor Asked to Send Troops : Harlan Court House-The Howard Faction Threaten to Burn the Entire Town.

LOUISVILLE, KY., October 23.-News from Harlan, where Judge Lewis and party are besieged in the Court House by Howard and his followers, is anxiously awaited. A correspondent who went to Pineville last night wires as follows: Wilson Howard and one of his principal henchmen named Jennings are among the wounded, and it is said that Howard's injuries are probably fatal. The Turners have been in possession of the town for more than a week. Their leader is John Turner, just 17 years of age. Howard's forces have been in camp one mile rom town. There are about 40 men in each crowd, all equipped with Winchesters and revolvers. Yesterday morning Turner led his followers in an attack on the Howard camp. The attacking party got in the first work, but were finally driven back to town. A report reached Pineville at 11 o'clock this morning that the Howard forces in Harlan, enraged by the battle of yesterday and the probable fatal wounding of their leader, left camp last night and started for Harlan Court House intending to kill everybody that belongs to the opposition and burn the town. G. C. Huff, Clerk of the Harlan county court at Pineville, is afraid to go home, though he has no connection whatever with the trouble.

The latest report from Harlan Court House states that Wilson Howard had cut off Lewis and his party from communica-tion with the town. Sheriff James Howard, of Harlan, who is here, urges that the Governor send troops to quiet the county. He says on account of the wide extent of the feud he cannot find men not conc form a posse and execute the law.

BROAD-AX EVER WATCHFUL. Editor Smith Makes Speechmakers Flash Up the Flinn Club Fee.

A well attended meeting of the Flinn Re-publican Club, of Allegheny county, was held last night in the Eleventh ward school house. Mr. Samuel Harris presided, and James Brooks acted as secretary. A number of new members were taken in and several speeches made. Mr. B. F. Stewart in an address, severely scored the would-be leaders of the colored voters in the city. He said that with over 20 years' experience the Afro-Americans have not learned the power of their votes and how to utilize that power to the best interests of race elevation and political progress. They should not hold themselves as Walker was not a member. Mr. Walker at once paid 10 cents and became a member. He then made a stirring speech on the status of the colored race.

Mr. Turfley at this juncture entered and started to make a speech. He was also halted by "Broad Ax" on account of not being a member. Mr. Turfley said he thought it was the workingmen's club to which he belonged. He was informed such was not the case, and departed, declining to join. Several more speeches were made, and the meeting adjourned until next

A Bank Cashler Neatly Robbed of a Package Containing $1,150.

SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH. NEWARK, N. J., October 23 .- A surrey containing a fashionably-dressed woman and two men drew up in front of the German American Savings' Institution at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and the two men entered the bank, leaving the woman in the carriage. The elder of the visitors told Cashier G. C. Webner that the woman'in the carriage desired to talk to him about making a large deposit belonging to some minor children. He accompanied the elder man to the carriage, leaving the younger man in the bank. The woman engaged him in conversation for two or three minutes, and told him she would come again. As he turned to go into the bank, the younger man came out and got into the carriage, which was driven away rapidly.

As soon as Mr. Webner reached his desk ne missed a package containing $1,150 in bills and an alarm was sent out. The thieves were seen by scores of persons, none of whom knew them. The money was not within reach of the opening in the bank railing, and it is believed that the young man vaulted over the railing or crawled through the opening, as Mr. Webner locked the door when he went out of the inclosure. Mr. Webner was alone in the bank when

VICTORY FOR THE LANDLORD.

A Chicago Court Makes a Decision Tha Will be a Precedent. CHICAGO, October 23 .- A question of in terest to landlords was decided by the Appellate court to-day. Neil McCaul leased certain premises to A. Hertzberg, having first put the plumbing in repair. Hertzberg claimed that they were defective and refused to pay rent, whereupon McCaul sued

"The landlord in such a case is not an insurer," says the court, "unless the lease, by its terms, makes him such. It is the settled doctrine that there is no implied ontract on the part of the landlord that the premises are tenantable or that they will premises are tenantable or that they will continue so during the term. Nor is the landlord bound to repair unless he has expressly agreed to do so in the lease or contract of hiring. The defendant might have protected himself against the consequences now in sight by agreement with the plaintiff, but the court cannot make such an agreement for the parties."

Rigid Quarantine Has Been Put in Force

TORONTO, October 23 .- The Provincial ealth office has received a letter from Dr. Hodgetts, of Pelce Island, where somewhat of a smallpox scare has arisen, stating that a local Board of Health has been organized and health officers appointed. At present there is only one case on the island, which is progressing favorably.

All others who were in any way exposed to the contagion have been rigidly quarantined, and there is no fear of further danger. A Proficient Three Years' Work Has given Williams' indoor game to the baseball world. Of dealers generally.

Two Lads Arrested for Injuring the Castle Shannen Rallroad. Fred Vettmyar and George Seibel, two boys about 15 years of age, were arrested yesterday evening and entered bail for a hearing on Saturday before Alderman Lohrman, on an information preferred by E. J. Reamer, charging the boys with cut ting a wire cable owned by the Castle Shannon Railroad Company.

Mr. Reamer, the bookkeeper for the company, alleges that the boys cut the cable in such a manner last Sunday as to render it useless, thus preventing the operation of the company's coal cars in and about their mines at Oak station on the Castle Shanno road. The cable is very long, quite valu-able and is used to run the coal cars in and out of the mines. Reamer claims that the lering repair impossible.
